

11/19/2020

MyChart - Message Center

Name: Judy [REDACTED]

Message Center

Eileen de la Cruz, MD

11/18/2020 04:46 PM

DEXA scan

Dear Judy,

Your DEXA scan shows that your bone density has actually improved from a year ago! (Compared to the DEXA on 11/4/2019, the bone density of the lumbar spine has increased by approximately 8.8%. The total hip has increased by approximately 5.8%. A change of 2% is considered statistically significant for our machine.) This is great news. Your bones are no longer osteoporotic but rather osteopenic. Keep doing what you are doing. I recommend repeating your DEXA scan again in 2 years.

Take care,

Eileen de la Cruz, MD

This record has been closed by the organization.

There are no more messages available.

[REDACTED]